Individual

Individuals that support the organization's mission and purposes pay an annual membership fee which entitles them to: vote during the annual meeting, become a board member, receive a newsletter and use the center space free with a reservation. Members also receive special discounts from the Center's Community Partners.

Corporate

Corporations, businesses and non-profits that support the organization's mission and purposes pay an annual membership fee which entitles them to the following benefits, subject to membership level: being listed as a major donor on all materials distributed during 2009; listed on the website; advertisement on website; one free informational session; and an e-newsletter. To become an individual or corporate member, complete the form on the reverse side.
