Diane Crane – Watercolors

Diane, a native Midwesterner, has spent the last 40 years examining and recording her immediate environment, especially its plant life, usually in watercolor. After 25 years on the faculty of Viterbo University's Art Department, she has retired to paint and garden.

Jean R. Donohoe – Watercolors

Jean's art has been primarily self taught. Her current medium of choice is watercolor, with a focus on portraiture. "I find working from photographs is the best approach for me. Photos will 'hold' the subtle shadows in place."

Lori Horsic – Digital Photography

Lori is inspired by the beauty of her current home, Redwing Minnesota...the Mississippi River, bluffs, trees, flowers, and the unusual local barns. Back in her hometown of Benton Harbor Michigan, she is captivated by the natural wonder of the Michigan shoreline, dunes, and the majestic lighthouses. She also finds inspiration from music, especially jazz, by using the idea of creating variations to the original work.

Suzanne Merkl – Stained Glass Work & Fused Glass Jewelry

Suzanne has been working with glass in its various forms for the past 16 years. She owns Winter Tree Studio in La Crescent, MN. Her copper foil stained glass work features decorative soldering in combination with hand-rolled glass. She utilizes raking, etching milliflore and stacking techniques in her fused dichroic glass jewelry.

JoAnn Mulert – Pastels, Oils and other mediums

JoAnn grew up in northeast Iowa. She is a lifelong artist inspired by the beauty of the area. Now living in central Texas, Ms. Mulert is drawn back often by the beauty, family, and friends. More painting and other works can be seen at the Artists's web-site at www.JoAnnMulert.com.
